Do we really need Wal-Mart to control so much of our economy?

Is it really beneficial to have a peddler of cheap goods that does not supply healthcare for most of its workforce more power and control. I say no.

A bank owned by the largest corporation in the world would create a dangerous concentration of commercial and financial power.

Wal-Mart has a history of skirting, bending and even breaking the law for the sake of their bottom line. We should not trust them with an institution that is so important to the vitality and stability of our communities.

Let's think this through.

Sincerely,

Amber Sims
